The disciples' reaction to Jesus

.....
This miracle showed Jesus' authority over nature.

Once again Jesus and His disciples crossed the Sea of Galilee. On this occasion they landed in a thinly populated spot where a steep cliff rose high above the water. The hillsides were full of caves for tombs which to this day are used for burial places. Wild hogs still pasture in this barren land. As the Master's boat touched shore, Jesus was approached by one who desperately needed His help.
